WHAT MAKES US DIFFERENT

Excellent Polish design

Poland's Institute of Industrial Design was one of the first institutions promoting design in post-war Europe. It was established in 1950, earlier than the famous Jacques Vienot's Parisian Institute of Industrial Aesthetics. The Institute's founder and director up till 1968 was Professor Wanda Telakowska, known as the Joan of Arc of Polish design.

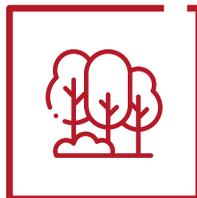

„Everyday beauty for everyone. Good design of mass production products is an economic value. Good designs are also a cultural value” - she pursued these ideas by popularizing new, rational design.

Competitive production costs

Production costs in Poland are more favorable than in other Western European countries. At the same time, thanks to the single European market, Polish producers have access to demanding but also large markets such as Germany or France - creating potential for generating high profits.

Good access to wood and its products

The Polish wood industry is thriving and provides excellent raw material for our furniture industry. Proactive measures implemented by Poland's State Forests ensure sustainable management.

DID YOU KNOW THAT

A Polish artist holds a Guinness Book Record in the art field

BEACON – Since 2021, Karolina Hałatek’s light sculpture holds the Guinness World Record in the category of The Largest LED Structure in the World. The light sculpture can be seen in Riyadh, Saudi Arabia – it was created with a Polish manufacturer’s products. It is an example of how a creative mind can transform everyday items into pieces of art.

Poland is a major player on the global market

Despite the Covid-19 pandemic, Poland remains one of the strongest players on the global furniture market. In 2022, it had record sales at a level of over 68 bn PLN*.
