They trusted Futurum Technology!

Qravity

Qravity provides a space for creative visionaries to collectively develop original monetizable digital content, including movies, music, games, e-books, and applications.

We worked with Qravity for almost a year. During that time, we helped them with their development. Our team created Blockchain Technology for the startup right from the ground up.

We developed the system architecture, which comprises blockchain solutions based on the Ethereum network and utilizes the Solidity programming language. Furthermore, we designed an API backend and a front-end application, facilitating seamless integration and utilization of the aforementioned smart contracts.

Pinpoint Works

Created, tested and approved by shipyard project managers, independent contractors, paint surveyors, and yacht crew, Pinpoint Works is supporting hundreds of yachts and maritime businesses all over the world.

Pinpoint Work was one of the first clients of Futurum Technology. We took over this startup after the initial company left them with a huge number of bugs. We were the only company that helped them and wasn't scared of challenges.

After a few years, the Pinpoint Works startup was successfully sold, resulting in significant gains for its CEO, James.
